HD Fiber Panels Sliding Trays Color Change

Due to a shortage of gray resin, the sliding trays for HD panels will temporarily change from gray to black. This temporary resin substitution will take place with panels manufactured starting in January, 2022 and continue until the standard gray resin is back in stock. This change is estimated to be in effect for panels made in January through March, 2022 but may be extended depending on resin availability.

- Please see below for the affected part numbers
- imVision panels may also be affected
- This change will remain in effect until resin supply has been improved
